Clear Round × TRYON INTERNATIONAL EQUESTRIAN CENTER

BRANDING CONCEPT

Clear Round is a free show jumping game you play in the browser, on a phone or a computer. Riders pick a class, ride a numbered course in the ring and post their best rounds to a shared top-10 leaderboard. This concept shows how the ring could carry Tryon International Equestrian Center branding.

THE RING FROM ABOVE (SCHOOLING COURSE)

WHERE THE BRAND APPEARS

1. Arena floor. The full logo raked into the sand in the middle of the ring. Riders gallop over it on every course.
2. Fence-line boards. Four logo boards along the rail on each long side, between the flower boxes.
3. Grandstand. A white logo strip across the front of the stands.
4. Judges' box. A logo board under the judges' stand.
5. Start screen. "Presented at Tryon International Equestrian Center" with the logo, above the class picker.
6. Sponsor card. "Sponsored by" with the logo flashes up as a rider enters the ring, before the start bell (page 3).
7. Optional: the venue's green and maroon used for the scoreboard.

As each rider enters the ring, a "Sponsored by" card shows the logo for about three seconds. Then the bell rings and the 45-second start clock begins, so the card never costs the rider time. It works the same on computers and phones.
